STRIKING PLAYERS BACK IN FIELD

Trouble in Ball Club is Amicably Adjusted.

GRIM AIDS IN SETTLEMENT

SIX MEN LEAVE FOR SEATTLE-NEW PLAYERS SECURED.

The revolt in the Salt Lake baseball The revolt in the Salt Lake baseball club appears to be over, and six of the strikers left for the north at midnight to join the balance of the team at Seattle. They will probably be there in time for Friday's game. Grim and Kelly remain bere with Manager Reynolds. Reynolds has sixned two new outfielders, who will be in Seattle in time for the game today, so that he concluded it would not be necessary to send Kelly along. Father Tom will go to Butte at the end of this week to play in the series there next week.

The strike was settled early yesterday afternoon, and matters are now in about the same shape as before the racket started, except for a little uneasiness that might have been expected to follow an affair of the kind. Grim used his influence with the men yesterday to induce them to come back into the camp.

Grim's Attitude.

Grim's Attitude.

In speaking of it, Grim said: "It seems that I was back of the whole trouble, the boys claiming that they were only hanging back on my account. I did not wish to be held responsible for something that might break up the whole basebaff season for the town and get lots of people into trouble, besides making all the natrons of the game sore on the crowd. So I thought the best thing to do was to tell the boys to forget me and go ahead playing ball. They agreed to do this and I am glad of it. I don't want to be the cause of killing paseball in Sait Lake.

Wont Forfeit Game.

The team did not play in Seattle yesterday, as the schedule intimates. This is due to an error of the schedule committee, which did not allow enough time for the jump from Salt Lake to Seattle. This comes under the "unavoidable delay" clause of the league constitution, and Salt Lake will not forfeit any games on that account. The first game of the Seattle series will be this afternoon. The team will reach Seattle this morning. Reynolds, Grim, Kelly and others will be busy here for a week or more fixing up the grounds. Kelly intimated last night that as he would not be kept very busy between now and Sunday, any amateur team desiring to utilize him for a ringer might be able to do business. He will dye his hair if necessary, to make the deception strong.

FACTS FOR THE FANS.

Tacks Parrott yesterday received and accepted an offer to play outfield or first base for Nashville in the Southern league at a salary of $275, which is $25 per more than he was getting here. Tacks is an old kick of Newt Fisher's, who is running Nashville, and it is a cinch somebody will buy when Sir Thomas hits the sunny couth. Tacks says he does not like to leave Zion, and there is no doubt but that his departure will be universally regretted by the Salt Lake fans. This religious atmosphere, Tacks says, after many years spent in ruder communities, has proved so restful and beneficial to his mind that it is with feelings of genuine sorrow he leaves us. As Tacks beautifully said yesterday: "Ye might uy hed me yit uf it hedn't ben thet me celery wuz cut. I'm a man uv fambly an' has to look out fer meself an' folks. I'm sure sorry to git out o' here." At that, it is a matter of regret that old Tacks is leaving. Not only has he shown himself to be one of the best players on the team, but his unfailing good nature, grotesque antics and staunch heart have endeared him to all the fans. His careless habit of hitting the ball safe when men are on bases is another thing we are going to miss and miss plenty. Tacks expects to leave today. (Tip for Management.—See Tacks and make an effort to induce him to stay here.)

thisteen. have ever been his closest friends, so it may come out all right.

Everybody was out with a good word for Jack Grim last night for his action in inducing the players to leave last night. It is a clinch they would not have gone had not Grim urged them to do it, and he is justly entitled to the lion's share of the credit for bringing about the peaceful and satisfactory ending of the trouble. His friends here are hoping he is not to suffer through the mix-up.

Jack Flannery, who is to take the left field for the Elders, was the sole survivor of the paid fire department of Butte atter the terrible dynamite explosion took place. To fish he over killed and 10° others injured. Flannery was a plug man and had gone some distance from the fire to draw a plug before the explosion took place. To fish he over the Eutte department, but left it to take up baseball and has been very successful. The Salt Lake club now holds former chiefs of both the fire and police department of Sutte in Flannery and Rey plats. They ought to be able to arrest the rore ress of opposing players, as well as put them out.
